Dear Mr. President:

I suffer from health problems due to the toxic levels of radiofrequency radiation in our country (a.k.a. electrosmog); we are exposed to 100 million times more background RF radiation today than our grandparents were. Unfortunately, radiofrequency radiation remains largely untested for biological effects, due to the common misconception that non-ionizing radiation is harmless. This could not be farther from the truth; in fact, microwave radiation was used as a weapon in World War II! And now this same technology is being vigorously deployed by the wireless industry. We are being microwaved without adequate safety standards.

Peer-reviewed science has shown that there are biological impacts on humans, animals, and the environment at exposure levels 3 MILLION times lower than the max levels currently permitted by the Federal Communications Commission. Our safety standards are one of the highest in the world; much more permissive than most European countries. We may be first when it comes to adopting technology, but we come in last when it comes to protecting ourselves from technology; our safety standards today are more than a half-century outdated! Thousands of peer-reviewed scientific studies have proven that there are biological health implications in biological organisms at levels currently permitted in the United States. Therefore, we propose lowering the limit for RF radiation emissions from 10,000 mW/m² to 1 mW/m² or lower. We should be putting human and environmental health and safety first; not industry convenience and profit.

Please make America Great Again,
EMF Sufferer
